On the left... when you realize the summer weather is really over, and Roe Park's splash pad is closing for the season. On the right... when you realize it's only about six months until it opens back up next year!

Crews will be winterizing the splash pad at Roe Park this week. The restroom, playground and nature play (except the water features) will stay open all winter.

Contrary to popular belief, Lamar Avenue is not named after @LamarsDonuts!

A friendly reminder as we kick off Labor Day weekend that fireworks are not allowed in OP! As much as the Overland Park Fire Department would love to drop in on your barbeque... you don't want them there! Read about what's allowed, and what's not: https://goo.gl/xQfd1G

There's no need to be sheepish about it... If Deanna Rose Children's Farmstead is your favorite place to visit, vote before the USA TODAY 10Best contest ends tomorrow at noon! https://goo.gl/2Lt9zQ
Good morning,

Overland Park’s Recycling Extravaganza is this Saturday.

The Extravaganza offers an opportunity to recycle more materials than ever before. You can bring:

- Usable building materials;
- Clothing, housewares, small appliances, and toys;
- Bicycles;
- Up to 10 fluorescent light bulbs;
- Fabric;
- Garden tools;
- Gently used shoes;
- Durable medical equipment;
- Pet ... View more
