COMMUNICATION SYSTEMS & ON-SCENE COORDINATION FUNCTIONAL EXERCISE

No community is immune from intentional attacks that result in significant casualties and fatalities. Will your agency be ready to respond?

EXERCISE OVERVIEW
The exercise provides participating agencies an opportunity to test and validate systems, including command and control, communications, and resource management in the context of a CCTA in a two-phase exercise.

- Phase 1: Focuses on the initial notifications of a regional CCTA response, validating the ability of PSAPs to build a common operating picture among incidents.
- Phase 2: Designed to validate Unified Command/Area Command’s ability to collect and share mass casualty and fatality information across multiple locations and disciplines.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND
Players for this exercise should be community and agency personnel who have an active role in responding to an emergency and perform their regular roles and responsibilities during a CCTA. It is recommended that experienced and supervisor-level personnel from the following disciplines attend:

- PSAP/Dispatch
- Law Enforcement
- Fire/EMS
- EOC/Emergency Manager
- Hospital
- Medical Examiner/Coroner

If you are interested in participating in the exercise, please complete the XPA at the link below. Only one XPA per agency/organization is needed, and participants will still be asked to register for the exercise before April 3. Participation in this exercise is both virtual and in-person.
